Introduction

This document describes the process of planning and executing tests in version 11.27.0 of the Yad2 App product.
The main goal is to bring about a comprehensive and in-depth understanding of the quality of the system and its readiness to operate in a productive environment.

Now we will briefly present the main goals of this document:

Objectives of the document:

Focus on quality:
Understanding the overall quality of the system and the ability to provide reliable and sound solutions to the end users.

Readiness for action:
Approaching the concept of 'readiness for action' in the sense of being able to deal with and act in different conditions and scenarios.

Comparison with the original design:
Comparing the test results to the original design to identify updates, improvements and changes from the initial design.

Providing data for a learning process of insights:
Providing essential data for the process of learning insights and improving the process in subsequent versions

The document will include an overview of the inspection process, objectives at each inspection level and a focus on the recommendations and conclusions derived from the inspection process.
In addition, a comprehensive summary will be presented, gathering data collected during the testing process and comparing them to the original plan.

Through this document, our goal is to create a thorough and comprehensive picture of the quality of the system and activate the continuous improvement process.

Relevant documents

Below is a list of relevant documents for the preparation of this document:

- STD document
- Test run summary reports
- Bug report
- Practitest

Executive summary

Below is the summary of the tests performed, the main findings and the evaluation of the readiness of the system for delivery:

- 214 tests were performed, 85% success.
- 17 faults were found:
    - 1 high
    - 8 medium
    - 7 low
- No critical faults.
- Main fault areas:
    - Search and filtering - 9 errors
    - Data entry - 3 faults
    - Display and navigation - 5 faults
- Major faults require immediate attention.
- The rest of the faults will be handled in the next version.
- Release criteria met, but revisions required before official release.
- Need for close monitoring of troubleshooting before release.

Testing activities - planning versus execution

Below is a breakdown of the testing activities done in this version, and their comparison to the original design (as documented in the STP document).
The testing activities are divided into several topics:

Timetables for test levels

	planning		Execution of		Nitzan notes
test level	Start Date	end date	Start Date	end date
System Test	10.12.2023	24.12.2023	10.12.2023	24.12.2023

Conclusions and lessons learned

This document describes the testing process of version 11.27.0 of the Yad2 App product and provides key conclusions and lessons learned.

The main goal is to improve the quality of the system and bring reliable solutions to users.
In particular, strictness on the quality of the system, readiness for operation, and comparison with the original design.
17 bugs were found, where the importance is given to high faults and requiring immediate treatment.
The testing activities were done according to the planning of the STP document.
Performing 214 tests with 85% success.
The evaluation of the quality of the system is carried out according to the results of the tests and bugs and affects the feeling of the reliability of the system.
At the end, it was found that there is an intention to use the conclusions and lessons learned as a tool to improve and develop the overall process and bring about improvementin the quality of the system in the following versions.

Summary

Objectives of the document:

Focus on quality: Emphasis on understanding the overall quality of the system and the ability to provide reliable and sound solutions to the end users.

Readiness for action: Emphasis on the system's ability to operate under different conditions and scenarios.

Comparison with the original design: Comparing the test results to the original design to identify updates, improvements and changes.

Faults and test environments:
17 faults were found: 1 high, 8 medium, and 7 low.
The main fault areas are search and filtering, data entry, and display and navigation.
Major faults require immediate treatment,
The rest of the bugs can be taken care of when the next version arrives.

Testing activities:
It can be seen that the planning of the test and the execution were done according to the planning of the STP document.

Executive summary:
214 tests were performed with 85% success.
17 bugs were found, but no critical bugs.
The rest of the bugs will be addressed in the next version, and meeting the release criteria with fixes.

System quality assessment:
A quality assessment was proposed for each requirement, which is carried out according to the results of the tests and bugs.

Conclusions and final lessons:
Importance of immediate treatment of high bugs.
Traceability and closeness is required to fix low and medium bugs before releasing the system.
More focus on fixes and improvements in the next versions.
